[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

BALTIMORE, Md., May 23, 1877.
This was the second day of the spring meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club, and a more respectable concourse of ladies and gautlemen never appeared on Pim-lice Course than was there this afternoon. The throng was great and the racing seemed to give universal satisfaction. The weather was delightful and the track in good condition. The races were all interesting and some of them run in very fair time. There were four events on the card-the first a dash of one mile, the second two miles and a quarter, the third one mile and a half and the fourth mile heats. All were closely contested, and in two instances the favorites won. SWEEPSTARES FOR THREE-YEAR-OLDS. The first race was a sweepstakes, for three-year-olds that have not won in their two-year-old form, of $25 each; play or pay; colts to carry 100 lbs.; filles and geldings, 97 lbs.; the club to add $500, of which $100 to the second horse; dash of one mile. There were twenty-six nominations for the event, nine of which tame to the post. These were E. A. Clabaugh's chestnut colt Cloverbrook, by Vauxhall, dam Maudina; A. D. Brown's chestnut filly, by Vauxhall, dam Lady Johnson; George Lorillard's brown colt Lucher, by Learnington, dam Lady Motley; A. Belmont's bay filly Ribernia, by Learnington, dam Heurietta Weisn; P. Lorillard's brown gelding Diamond, by Learnington, dam Black Slave; Oden Bowie's bay filly, by Eclipse, dam Katie; F. M. Hall's bay filly Euterpe, by Vauxhail, dam Eugenia; Thomas Doswell's say cols, by Bonnie Soutland, dam Annie Bush, and C. W. Medinger's bay cost Wash. Booth, by Asteroid, dam Vanita. Cloverbrook was the favorite at nearly even money over the field. The start was a good one, and the horses went off in a bunch. Euterpe showed in front on the upper turn, Wash, Booth second, Bowle's Billy third, Cloverbrook fourth, Diamond Etth, Luciler sixth, Hibernia seventh, the others close up. At the quarter pole; Euterpe still led by a neck, Wesh, Booth second, the Vauxbail filly third. Bowle's bily fourth, the others so close together that it was impos-sible to separate them. Going down the backstretch they were so bunched that no daylight was visible between any of them. As they passed the half-mile pole Euterpe, Hibernia, Diamond and Cloverbrook were in the front rank, nearly parallel, while Wash. Booth, Lucifer, the Annie Bush colt, the Vauxhall filly and the others were in a group. No daylight was visible as the horses passed into the lower turn. Going around to the three-quarter pole Luctier came with a rush, and entered the homestretch he was close to Cloverbrook, who had at this point reached the front; Diamond second, Hibernia reached the front; Diamond second, Hibernia third, the others still in a cluster. A very exciting run up the homestretch resulted in Luctier winning the race by half a length, Cloverbrook second, Diamond third, Bowie's filly fourth, Hibernia mith, the Vauxhall filly sixth, the Annie Bush coil seventh, Wash, Booth egith, and Euterpe minth. Time, 1:46, Smith rode Luctier, Holloway was on Cloverbrook, Donahue on the Vauxhall filly, Brown on Wash, Booth, Sayres on Hibernia, Cotton on Diamond, Spillman on Bowie's filly, Sparing on Euterpe and Figure on the Annie Buso coit.

Tom Ochitree was the invorte over the field at long odds. The start was a capital one, the horses going off at a moderate pace, Preston leading, Tom Ochitree second, Burgoo thrd, Bertram bringing up the rear. Preston ran away from the others up the quarter stretch, and as he passed the ludges' stand he was eight lengths ahead, Burgoo second, one long in a advance of Tom Ochitree, Bertram bringing up the rear. Preston ran away from the others up the quarter stretch, and as he passed the ludges' stand he was eight lengths ahead, Burgoo second, one long in a advance of Tom Ochitree, Bertram bringing up the rear. Preston ran away from the others up the quarter stretch, and as he passed the latin mile pole Preston was only one length to the of the two miles and a quarter was 1.14, which was very slow considering the isvorable condition of the weather and the track. The crowd seemed well pleased, however, with the result, as Tom Ocnitiree is a great lavor to with Baltimoreans.

Swigert's bay colt Petrel, A. Buford's chestnut colt McHenry (late McGregor), and James Surget's bay colt Barnaby Rudge. Pomeroy won the race, Swigert's entries led in the betting. Much difficulty was experienced in getting a start, fully three-quarters of an hour being spent in this way before the colis were sent away. Atter all the send off was very bad, Pomeroy getting away first, followed by Bramble and McGregor, the rest with the exception of Milan, who did not leave the post, being scattered all along the track. Pomeroy held the lead throughout and came in first, followed by Bramble second, McHenry third, Potrel by gelding Dusty. Courier was the favorite. He took the lead at the up of the drum, closely tollowed by Kilbura and Dusty, with the rest bunched some distance benind. Near the end of the first three-quarters Patriot spurted and came and neck with Courier, but was soon left in ther car and Courier came under the string first. YACHTING NOTES.

Steam Jacht Mystic, N.Y.Y.C., Mr. E. S. Chapin, Greenport, Long Island, passed the Hexale Tele graph Station yesterday afternoon cruising westward.

The schooner yacht Vesta, Mr. S. M. Mills, of the N. Y. Y.C.. came off the ways about ten days ago and is now anchored off City Island, looking as pretty as a picture. Without doubt Dave Carll has made a very pretty job of the Vesta, and lengthening her out ha given her very graceful lines. In the thunderstorm the other day she was very hearly destroyed, as an electric boit struck the water within ten feet of her stern. The Vesta will be quite a formidable antagonist for the Dreadnaught this season.

The Schooner yacht Vision, Rear Commodore Alex-nadre, of the N.Y.Y.C., is still at Nyack undergoing andre, of the N.Y.T.C., is still at Nyack undergoing repairs. The Vision will go into commission this sea son nearly a new yacht, as she has been almost entirely rebuilt, none of the old boat remaining except the lantail stern. She has also been lengthened about six feet, and her owners are very suggine as to her

The new cutter yacht building under the supervision of Mr. Robert Centre is moored near the dock at the foot of Court street, Brooklyn. She is quite a stiff looking craft with pienty of headroom below and will be a very comfortable cruising yacht. She is evidently not built for a raong machine but was designed and sparred with a view to taking in all kinds of weather. The cutter yacht Active, Mr. F. W. J. Burst, is as usual one of the first yachts in commission and has been cruising around the lower bay presty regularly for the past week. Her topmast has been reduced this season.

for the past week. Her topmast has been reduced this season.

Dave Carll has laid the keel of Mr. W. Astor's new schooner yacht and the work will be pushed steadily along during the summer, as the is to be ready for cruising in the fall. The schooner yacht Atalanta, also owned by Mr. W. Astor, is anchored off City island ready to go into commission. It is to be hoped the Atalanta will appear in all the regattus this season and sastain the reputation she made in her race with the idler last fall.

The schooner yacht Dreadinaught, Mr. C. Osborn, N. Y. C., is lying at anchor off the foot o Twenty-eighth street. East River. She came down from Northport, L. I., a few days ago, and is looking in every way fit to sustain her reputation for speed. She has held both her masts shortened about six feet, and consequently her canvas has also been reduced six feet in the hoist.

THE METROLOGICAL SOCIETY.

The American Metrological Society held a stated meeting yesterday atternoon in the rooms of the American Institute, Cooper Union. The Rev. F. A. P. Barnard, S. T. D., LL.D., President of the association, was in the chair. The Committee on International Coinage reported at length through their chairman, Mr. E. H. Elliot. There was before last Congress proposition to adopt the metric system, and the committee were glad to record the fact that both Japan and the Argentine Republic had aiready adopted this method of gauging the value of their circulating media. It would, from all points of view, be a good thing it holders of silver builton could bring that metal to the mint and at once receive money in exchange for it. The Bank of France has a more equitable way of dealing with depositors than we in America. There they receive gold for gold and sliver for sliver. When the holder of a claim against the bank presents his credit he is paid in gold, silver or paper, s he chooses, and not at the option of the gover ment, Mr. Elliot exhibited a caretully prepared diagram, showing the relative values between gold and silver from 1760 to 1876-a period of 117 years. Toward the beginning of this period the proportionate value of silver was fifteen and a full to one of gold. In 1792 we adopted the rate of fifteen to one, and in 1844 this relative value was fixed at sixteen to one, and this

A good deal of business was done to-day in the way of ordering bills to a third reading. The Senate, as usual, kept abreast of its work, and need not be ashumed of its record when it adjourns. The first point of interest in the Senate was the reception of the follow message from the Governor convening the Senate in extra session for the purpose of settling with that self-acknowledged incompetent known as the Bank

Alvord's apportionment sitls.

ALVORD'S APPORTIONNEST BILL Alvord's Apportionment bill passed the house to lay after a long and furious debate, in which the democrats made themselves very conspicuous. Alvord cracked the party whip to some purpose. this bill differs from Woodin's in that feature of practially distrauchising 500,000 of people. Mr.

Alvord said, us he was auxious to get this bill into the hands of a conference committee, where it must go as soon as possible, he moved motion it Mesers, Cozans and Maynard, of the minority wished to discuss the bill, and would promise to renew the motion for the previous question on the conclusion of their remarks. The pariors of the House of the Holy Family were filled yesterday afternoon with a large assemblage who did full honor to the amateurs whose modesty in withholding their names is only equalled by the charity with which they contributed to the support of a most worthy object. The guests inspected the well-ordered house from the basement to the fifth story. A Kitchen, the pink of nestness, vied with a laundry where nothing but plain soap, plenty of water and careful rubbing render the clothing clean and white; the ironing room is provided with every appliance to render the labor easy and give the clothing the requisite numb. The reception room, even after the visitors had left it for their promenade in the wards, contained many very attractive and tragrant bouquets, stacks of oranges, piles of cakes and buns and boxes of more substantial comorts. The kindly recognition by these ladies and gentlemen of the sick was exceedingly well received. Though many had reached the hospital through a long course of degradation and dissipation, and their moral nature was thereby considerably mert, this manifestation of practical Christianity awoke all that was left of what was good within them, and the brightened eye and pleasant smile of many a patient whose expression of face it repose was indicative of great suffering, told how thankful they were for this labor of love. As many of the patients as were convaloscent enough as sempled in the chappi after the visitors had unished their walk in the wards, and there the ladies' and gentlemen sang a number of popular secred songs and medictes, for when some well known time was sung lears rolled down the cheeks of both men and women patients.
